The convolution theorem in the theory of linear systems and the mathematical transform technique (Laplace-, Z-transformation) are used to identify characteristics of the watershed, and simulate hydrological processes. To support the calculation of model output functions, computer programs are included in the text. This volume is suitable as a text for hydrology courses at universities or engineering academies.

System theoretical modelling in surface water hydrology

The system-theoretical approach to modelling the rainfall-runoff process in hydrology is presented in this book. The convolution process in the theory of linear systems and its hydrological application in deterministic models is considered. The book consists of 4 chapters entitled: (1) introduction; (2) preparation of hydrological variables for
